OUT ON THE LIMB with George Vierhus

TWO "REPEATERS" have volunteered (?) to turn out this column when we go on vacation in a couple of weeks from now.

City Manager Bob Stephens will take over for one week and Neal Royer, school superintendent and CofC president, will be in the hot seat for the other week.

Both Bob and Neal have tossed off the column in the past when we were on vacation so they will probably take it in stride.

One probably could almost call them "pros" in the out-on-the-limb field now.

Come to think of it, neither one really has to write a column in order to be out-on-the-limb.

It is sort of an occupational hazard that they both have.

"SMOOTH" WAS THE way, by the way, Neal described the first day of school in the district this year.

It was hard to believe, he reported to us, but he did not receive a single phone call on the first day of school that pertained to the usual opening-day scramble.

Everything seemed to fall into place smoothly and efficiently.

Neal said that he couldn't recall any other year when there weren't some calls from upset parents, worried principals, concerned teachers or the kids themselves.

Neal probably felt pretty strange about it on the first day of school. We mean, sitting there by the phone with nothing happening out of the ordinary.

At least nothing that he heard about.

INCIDENTALLY, OPENing day enrollment in the 19 Campbell elementary schools was 11,174, down 126 from the opening day of 1968.

The first day total was just 26 less than the estimate which probably is one of the biggest reasons why the first day ran so smoothly.

The kindergarten classes were off just 12 from the estimates.

It has been about five years since there has been any substantial increase in the enrollment figures of the Campbell schools. But for a decade prior to five years ago, the district was hard-pressed to keep up with the growth.

This respite from schoolhouse planning, building and staffing probably has been a welcome relief to the school administrators. At least it has given them something else to think about.

Say, "family life education".....

or dress codes.....

Maybe they would prefer to go back to the hectic building days of the good old "50's" and early "60's".

THERE WAS A PICTURE spread in last week's issue on the parking situation in town caused by the students of West Valley College.

You may recall that the pictorial review showed the half - filled college - operated parking lot on Rincon; the filled residential streets adjacent to the college and a new parking strip on the north side of Latimer which has been "discovered" this year by college students.

Parking on the north side of Latimer Ave. is prohibited. There are signs to that effect.

But the kids beat the rap by pulling off the street onto the former Gomes Ranch property.

This is the first year that the strip parking lot has been in existence. Until last year an orchard occupied the spot.

The orchard has been cleared and a huge apartment complex (780 units) is planned

For beautification

Nine firms to get awards Thursday

Results of the second annual beautification contest for local business firms will be announced this Thursday (Sept. 25) at the Chamber of Commerce luncheon meeting when nine awards will be made. The luncheon will be held at Villa Felice on Winchester Blvd.

Under the direction of Mrs. Mike (Jeanne) Kennedy, as chairman, more than 900 local business establishments have been evaluated during a four month period.

The selection of the nine winners in the annual contest was made by a panel of judges which included Bill Hedley, architect; Tom Snowden, of Snowden-Pencer Co.; Richard Dumire, of Sunset Magazine; Mrs. Eleanor Vennum, of the county fair floriculture department; Mrs. Dar Hollen, KNTV and George Kikuchi, Cambrian Nursery.

Working closely with Mrs. Kennedy on the beautification committee were Lou Ybarra, of the CofC beautification committee, and Mrs. Jeanette Watson, a CofC director and chairman of the Campbell Citizens for Beautification.

Feature speaker at the awards luncheon Thursday will be John Fisher-Smith, an architect associated with Skidmore, Owings and Merrill of San Francisco.

An authority on urban design and development and author of several papers on beautification, he was the keynote speaker at the nationwide beautification conference held in Washington, D.C. last year which was attended by Mrs. Watson. Smith's slide presentation will be entitled "California's Three Images".

Mrs. Kennedy will make the awards to the business firms at the luncheon. The top three in each of three categories (small, medium-sized and large) will receive Campbell "clean guy" certificates.

At the first beautification awards luncheon for business firms held last year, an attendance of 170 was registered, setting a record for a CofC monthly luncheon.

Those planning to attend the luncheon are asked to call the CofC office (378-6252) for reservations.

Rincon overpass plans go again

New plans drafted by the county public works department for that long-awaited pedestrian overpass at Rincon Ave. were shown to the City Council Monday night.

But the councilmen were not too happy with them.

The overpass is to be jointly constructed by the county, San Jose, the school district and Campbell. It was estimated that it would cost $100,000 with the county putting up $50,000; Campbell $25,000 and the school district and San Jose, $12,500 each.

Bids received on the first set of plans far exceeded the $100,000 estimate and were rejected.

Whether the new plans will fare any better remains to be seen.

The councilmen Monday night indicated they did not like the design particularly.

They thought a horse-shoe shape would be better than a direct line across the creek and expressway and directed Bill Wren, public works director, to inform the county people of their desires.

The Council also asked Wren to have the county furnish cost estimates of more than one design at the next meeting.

League needs $$ to get clubhouse

To finish the clubhouse building now nearly half-completed at the ball field at Rincon Park, $2000 is needed, the City Council learned Monday night.

In a letter from Chuck Cannady, president of the Campbell-Moreland Pony League, the Council was asked to allocate $2000 from the park bonds in order to complete the facility at the city-owned park.

Cannady explained that without the city's financial help the building could not be completed as there would be no source of income for the league until next year.

The money is needed, according to Cannady, to purchase steel doors, windows, electrical and plumbing fixtures.

During the past year, through the efforts of league members, and other local residents, the ball field at Rincon Park has been developed, according to authorities, into one of the best in the area. The clubhouse facility would more fully utilize the field, Cannady feels.

The request was referred to the Parks and Recreation Commission for recommendation.

Campbell campus could be part of WVC bond issue

West Valley College's temporary campus in Campbell could conceivably become a permanent location for college offices, a warehouse and some classrooms.

Such a project is described as an "alternate proposal" of "tentative suggestions" for a 1970 bond package that will be discussed for the first time tonight (Wed.) by the college advisory group.

Recommendations as to what should be included in the bond package for the West Valley Junior College District in the bond election next spring possibly may be made by the college advisory committee at tonight's session.

The meeting of the advisory committee has been called by Leon Poe, chairman, for 8 p.m. in the board room at West Valley College.

Another meeting which also could have bearing on the college future has been scheduled for Tuesday, Oct. 7, when the college trustees are scheduled to meet with the Campbell City Council.

Only two items will be on the agenda for that joint meeting (1) discussion of on and off-street parking problems and (2) the future of the temporary campus in Campbell.

But up for discussion at the college advisory committee meeting tonight will be the proposal made by Dr. Wallace Hall, college president, and the district staff, as to what should be included in the bond package. The report is based largely on the district's "10-year master plan of construction" and possible priorities. The Campbell plan is one of five suggestions contained in the proposal.

According to Chairman Poe, the college governing board has agreed for the submission of the proposal to the advisory committee prior to the board receiving it in order to obtain the committee

City stands firm on topless ban

Campbell's ban against topless activities may again be tested by the Classy Chassy, the beer tavern on S. Bascom which "won" its case against the city last spring but has been closed since that time.

The new owner apparently wants to open the tavern with topless entertainment.

But Campbell city councilmen indicated Monday night that they would be willing to stand on this city's anti-topless ordinance, especially in light of new state legislation which specifies that cities now have the authority to regulate such activities.

However, on the recommendation of City Attorney Joe Bonacina, the Council gave first reading to another ordinance as part of the health and sanitation code which would regulate the type of attire for persons serving food.

Last spring Judge Edward Taylor of the Los Gatos-Campbell-Saratoga Municipal Court, ruled against the City of Campbell in a topless case involving the Classy Chassy.

The operators and two entertainers had been charged with violation of the city ordinance.

Judge Taylor, however, in effect ruled that the state had preempted the field and thus the ordinance was not valid.

But before the decision was rendered, the Classy Chassy was shut down voluntarily.

Now the new owner wants to reopen the establishment in which semi-nude dancers are to be employed.

In a letter to the City Council, Charles R. Hughes, of 362 Sycamore Court, Los Gatos, indicated that he desired an entertainment permit for the Classy Chassy, at 1665 S. Bascom, where topless entertainment would be offered.

The applicant was represented at the Council meeting Monday by Bob Tennant, local attorney.

Tennant, however, did not make any formal presentation because the Council, on the city attorney's advice, had referred the application to the Planning Commission and to Police Chief John Morgan and Fire Chief George Maxwell for recommendation and report.

Campbell's ordinance which bans topless activities, although ruled invalid last spring, is still on the books.

A new state law, signed by the governor, gives cities the authority to regulate topless activities.

However, City Attorney Bonacina told the Council that the applicant's attorney was maintaining that there was a difference between "regulate" and "prohibit".

Bonacina added that the attorney also maintained that it was not necessary to obtain a permit because of the confusion that now exists with respect to the city ordinances.

The councilmen, however, on Monday night indicated that they were willing to let the city ordinance stand on its own merits.

Even in court, if need be.

Seniors ask city help for mini-bus to serve area

Before the City Council will consider the request by the West Valley Senior Action Center for assistance in the establishment of a mini-bus system in town, it first must be specified what is desired by the center in the way of help from the city.

That was how Mayor Homer Hyde on Monday night at the Council meeting, explained the situation to Mrs. Clara Gregg, chairman of the transportation committee of West Valley Senior Action Center.

Mayor Hyde added also that City Attorney Joe Bonacina had advised the Council also that it would be necessary to show that the organization was a non-profit organization devoted to public interest before the city could act on any request.

Mrs. Gregg told the Council that she would submit their specific requests to the Council and that her group was taking steps to incorporate as a non-profit organization.

The Senior Action Center is attempting to establish a one-car bus line to serve the senior citizens in the area. Menlo Park has such a system but a report submitted to the City Council revealed that the Menlo Park project is not subsidized to any extent by the city.

Mrs. Gregg suggested that perhaps the City could take care of the maintenance.

She added that maybe firemen or policemen on their days off could volunteer to be drivers.

Or even councilmen, she added.

That's when it was suggested that she come back with specifics.

Parents voice concern at Family Life Education hearing

As a result of the Family Life Education public hearing conducted Monday night by the Campbell Union (Elementary) School District Board of Trustees, it was apparent to the overflow audience that a large area of misunderstanding exists concerning the program in the minds of the concerned parents. Over 400 parents were present at the hearing held in the Campbell Elementary School multi-purpose room.

A plea for a "public information program" for parents, informing them of what the program consists of and who is going to teach it was heard from many of the parents who took the microphone to register their approval or disapproval of the proposed program.

John Merriell, president of the board, walked a delicate tight rope in conducting the meeting and kept the highly emotionally charged meeting under complete control, by allowing alternate sides to speak successively and for only five minutes each.

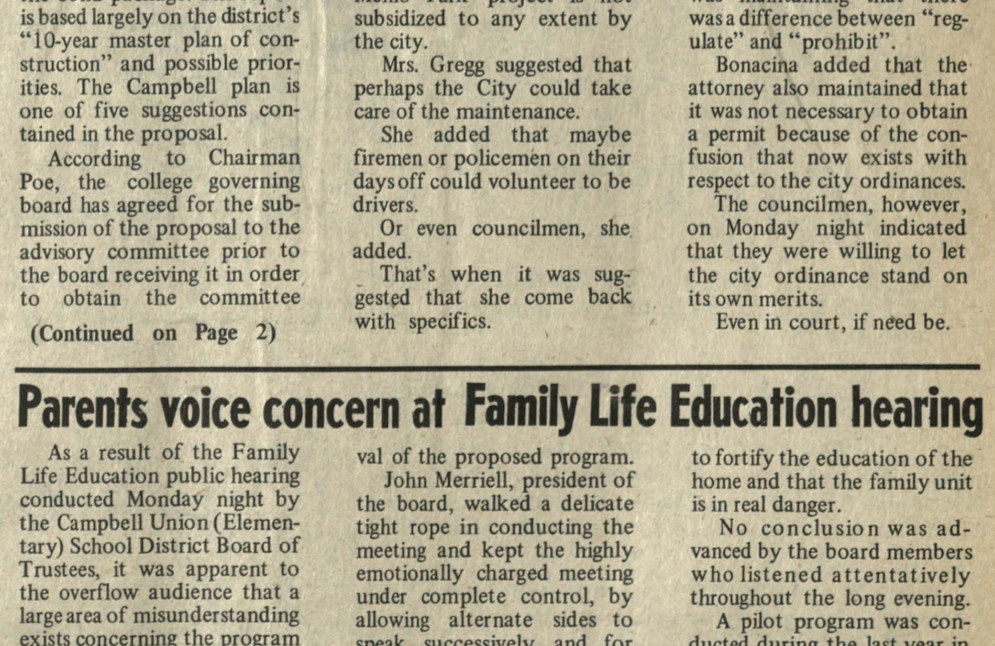
A total of 55 parents, both fathers and mothers, registered to present their views.

The argument used by the opposing parents was that they felt that moral education must be left to the parents and that they felt competent to handle the job. Those arguing for the program advanced the plea that there is a need for schools to fortify the education of the home and that the family unit is in real danger.

No conclusion was advanced by the board members who listened attentatively throughout the long evening.

A pilot program was conducted during the last year in the Campbell Elementary School program based on the San Mateo Family Life Education program and approved by the Santa Clara County Board of Education. Many who spoke during the evening have had children enrolled in the study, and both sides were represented by the parents of children who had already been exposed to the course.

COMING DOWN---Only two cabins now remain of the 17 that were formerly located in the trailer court at 117 Gilman Ave. The cabins were condemned by the city building official and the owner of the property, through an arrangement with the city, was allowed to demolish the cabins over a period of months as they became empty.



GOING UP---Another step in the construction phase of "The Towers", dramatic 18-story office building being constructed at Campbell and Bascom avenues at Union, was taken this week.

Workmen started the installation of the glass panels (as the photos show) that will provide maximum illumination and view by continuous and uninterrupted windows around the perimeter of each floor.

Editorial

The north loop

If the editorials that your editor has written about Campbell Avenue during the past 13 years were placed end-to-end, they would reach a pretty "far piece".

On the other hand, if you would ask what has been accomplished as a result of these editorials, the subject would be immediately changed – by us.

There is a basic mathematical formula involved here - - nothing plus nothing equals nothing.

Shortly after your editor assumed the reins of this sheet, 'way back in 1956, the first editorial on the subject of Campbell Ave. appeared in print.

It was pointed out in 1956 that Campbell Ave. was destined to become a main east-west thoroughfare (this was long before Hamilton Ave. was cut through) and that we should all be prepared for such an eventuality.

At the time that editorial appeared there were no shopping centers on the periphery.

The center at Latimer and Winchester (Campbell Shopping Center) was being constructed but the other eight centers that now exist were not even a gleam in the eyes of the developers in those days.

Editorials in the ensuing years continued to call attention to the problem presented by Campbell Ave.

As the years rolled by, the so-called "downtown" Campbell Ave. became less and less valuable as a retail center. Stores would move out or close down and the retail outlets dwindled.

But still the problem of Campbell Ave. remained.

What should be done about it?

Should the street be widened? Should parking be taken off it? Should new east-west routes be developed?

A good case could always be made for widening Campbell Ave., even when the retail outlets were disappearing from it.

For Campbell Ave. provided the main east-west artery for many people.

When the western portion (from Winchester west) of Campbell Ave. was improved, the traffic on Campbell Ave. increased, although the retail businesses on the street in the downtown area continued to decrease.

And, for a short time after Hamilton was cut through there was a noticeable slackening in the traffic flow on Campbell Ave.

But only for a short period of time.

What we are trying to point out in this editorial is that the problem of Campbell Ave. is a cross that this community has borne for more than a decade.

And in anno Domini 1969, the cross is still there along with a cross-town traffic at 5 p.m. on Fridays that defies description.

Now after 12 years and many false starts, the first definite step has been taken to "do something about Campbell Ave.".

We refer, of course, to the recent recommendation of the Planning Commission for the establishment of a plan line for a north loop street that would be located 295-feet north of the present center line of Campbell Ave. It would take off Campbell Ave. at Third St. and come back to the avenue across the railroad tracks.

We are well aware that the "north loop" is not the panacea for all the traffic evils that concern the community.

Very definitely we could cite editorially many strong arguments why the "north loop" is not the way to go.

But the recommendation last week of the Planning Commission for the establishment of the plan line for a new north loop street is the FIRST definite step that has been taken to improve the Campbell Ave. traffic problem in the history of this community.

AND we can prove that assertion by chapter and verse, if you would care to have us go into the matter in more detail.

Aside from the fact that something has to be done to alleviate the traffic congestion on Campbell Ave., especially at the peak hours, it also must be emphasized that the location of the new civic center complex is definitely involved with the north loop.

Plans call for the new city hall and library (approved by the voters) to be located north of the proposed loop street.

Without a plan line to go by, the location of a multi-million dollar civic center would be a dangerous pastime.

Unfortunately there will be property owners adversely affected, directly and indirectly, by the establishment of the north loop plan line.

Very few of us can stand still without a murmur when our homes are affected by so-called "progress".

So those residents on First, Second and Third streets, who will be affected in one way or another, have every right to make their protests known;

But this point remains; if the North Loop IS the way to go for the benefit of most of the community, then let us get on with it.

It's later than we think.

for the area.

But, nothing right now hinders the college students from using the strip for parking.

-0-

INTERESTINGLY enough during the time the Planning Commission was studying plans for the apartment complex, there was considerable discussion over one small phase of the development which had to do with parking activities of college students.

The plans call for the extension of Third St. from Latimer to Hamilton. The street has to "jog" a bit to line things up.

And the jog will form a triangular area at Latimer separated from the main apartment complex by the Third St. extension.

Plans presented by the developers, Anthony C. Morici and John DeManto, called for this off-site area to be used as a 17-space parking lot.

But at the urging of Planning Commissioner Dale Scott, the Commission ruled that the triangular parcel will become sort of a mini-park instead of a parking lot.

Scott contended, and was vigorously supported by Commissioner Jack Healey, that the college students would probably monopolize the proposed parking lot to such an extent that it would cause a serious policing problem.

Dale maintained that it would be better to have the area landscaped than asphalted. A majority of the Commission agreed with Dale and that was the only modification made in the plans that were presented by the developer.

IF THE USE OF THE Latimer "strip" this year by the college kids is any criterion of how they will improvise to save a few steps to class (the college-operated parking lot on Rincon Ave., of course, is only half-filled), you can imagine what would happen to a 17-space parking lot in the same general area.

It looks as if the Planning Commission used good judgment in changing parking to park.

That is, as long as the "temporary" Campbell campus for West Valley College remains in existence.

We figure in 1988 the college authorities will probably drop the "temporary" status.

That will be the silver anniversary of the opening of the "temporary" campus in Campbell.

-0-

DURING THE DISCUSSION recently on a proposed annexation at a Planning Commission meeting, members of the audience may have become a little confused by the verbal exchange that was taking place between a commissioner and a planning staff member.

Mr. Scott (Commissioner Dale Scott) was questioning Mr. Scott (Jerry Scott, of the city's planning department) about the city's procedure in this particular annexation situation (on Apricot Ave.).

Scott indicated he thought that Scott hadn't done his homework as well as he should because one of the residents involved in the annexation, and who was present at the meeting, seemed unclear on the issue involved.

It turned out that this party had purchased the property involved in the annexation after the procedure had been started. The previous owner had not bothered to inform the purchaser that an annexation was pending.

Under the circumstances, we thought Scott, the commissioner, was a little rough on Scott, the city staffer.

UNFORTUNATELY, very few annexations go through with sweetness and light on the part of all concerned.

It would be nice, of course, if those being annexed would march into the city hall carrying "we-want-Campbell" banners.

But it doesn't happen that-away.

The annexation laws specify that the majority rules to avoid the formation of unserviceable islands.

So in some cases, property owners have come into a city kicking and screaming, sort of.

But in most cases they get over it.

To complicate matters even more, the case we have referred to involved pre-zoning.

In other words, under the law a city can specify what zoning the property will have after it is annexed.

Obviously, this can become a trifle sticky when there is more than one property owner involved.

In this case there are eight parcels with eight different owners...

Conceivably there could be eight different ideas for zoning.

Or as many zones that are available.

Bike auction

Twenty unclaimed bikes, including two 10-speeds, will be auctioned off Saturday, Oct. 4 by the Campbell police department in the semi-annual disposal of unclaimed goods.

The auction will start at 10 a.m. in the parking lot of the Campbell City Hall, 75 N. Central Ave. Other items up for bid include six tape decks, miscellaneous tapes, hub caps, tachometer and an rpm gauge.

Businessmen get seminar Oct. 1

Increasing profit through effective management of small businesses will be discussed when West Valley College offers a business management seminar beginning Oct. 1.

The eight-week course will present informal talks by experienced businessmen on practical management techniques. Discussion periods will follow each talk and there will be ample opportunity for those enrolled to ask questions, exchange views and air their particular problems.

Pre-registration for the course must be made through the Office of Community Services, located at 44 E. Latimer Ave., Campbell, room L-26. Owners and employees of local businesses are urged to register early as the limited enrollment will be filled on a first come - first served basis.

Further information on the course may be obtained by calling 379-1733, ext. 58.

Bradley pushes voter control of school taxes

Senator Clark L. Bradley (R-San Jose) was instrumental in the battle which restored direct voter control of school tax ceilings during the 1969 regular session of the state legislature.

Senate Bill 35 and Assembly Bill 5 were introduced at the beginning of the session to repeal the clause in Assembly Bill 272 which would have removed all the limits on school taxes, and ended the people's right to vote on school tax increases, effective July 1, 1971.

Senate Bill 35 was killed in the Assembly Education Committee (School Finance Subcommittee) and Assembly Bill 5 was amended to provide only that school tax ceilings would not be removed until July 1, 1973–a two year extension of Assembly Bill 272.

Bradley, and Senator Schmitz (R-Tustin) had Assembly Bill 5 amended back into its original form. The Bill then passed both houses of the legislature during its final hours and was subsequently signed by Governor Reagan on Sept. 5.

The people of California will now, as a result of the actions on behalf of Senator Bradley, continue to have the right to vote on school tax increases.

Poe, in his letter calling the committee meeting, pointed out that the suggested costs included in the bond package, are close to $30 million. The net bonding capacity of the district is approximately $36,200,000.

The proposal that will be discussed includes (1) additions to the Saratoga campus; (2) purchase and development of the Mission College site in Santa Clara; (3) purchase and development of a southern site for a campus and (4) "alternate proposal involving purchase of present downtown Campbell campus" with construction of limited facilities. Such facilities, it is estimated, could cost $2.5 million, including site purchase.

Hungry burglar lifts beer

A beer and pizza bust must be planned for sometime soon if the burglars who broke into Kirkwood Pizza Parlor, 1686 W. Campbell Ave. have anything to do with it. Beer, linguica, pepperoni and assorted nuts, valued at $79.30 were stolen from the pizza parlor over the weekend after a rear window was pried open and potables and eatables removed.

Charles F. Cannady, 237 Hollis Ave. returned from a vacation and discovered camera equipment valued at $307 had been stolen from a closet while he was gone. Frances Bohnett, 1571 La Pradera did not get off so easily when burglars entered and ransacked her entire home, making off with property valued at $1,654. All the cupboards, drawers and closets had been thoroughly gone through by the thieves.

Mike Fujishin, 403 S. California also lost groceries, clothing and currency to a burglar who entered while the house was empty.

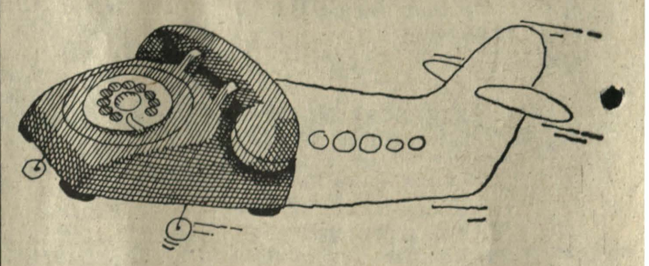
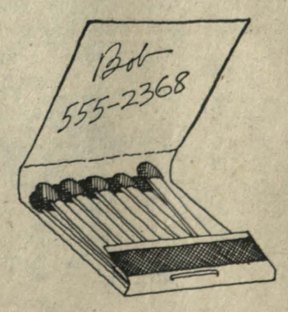
What's doing?



I'd like to pass on this reminder about the most relaxed, comfortable way you can travel these days —Fly Pacific Telephone Lines with a long distance call. In seconds you can be visiting friends or family. And the cost is low. After six p.m. weekdays or all weekend long, it costs 85¢ or less for three minutes, station-to-station, plus tax—anywhere in California. Now where can you beat a round trip travel offer like that?



If you're like a lot of people, you scribble phone numbers you want to remember on everything imaginable . . . matchbooks, scraps of paper and odds and ends of all sorts. So here's a suggestion that will help you keep those numbers organized. Let us give you one of our Personal Numbers Booklets. It has plenty of spaces for names, addresses, and telephone numbers; and it's a handy size for slipping under the phone. Just call your Business Office and we'll be happy to send you one—or more if you need them.

Some early day handset telephone users likely found themselves developing some unusual arm muscle. One 19th century handset—a separate transmitter and receiver attached to thick steel—weighed in at 1 pound 10 ounces. The weight of most modern handsets: a mere 10 ounces.

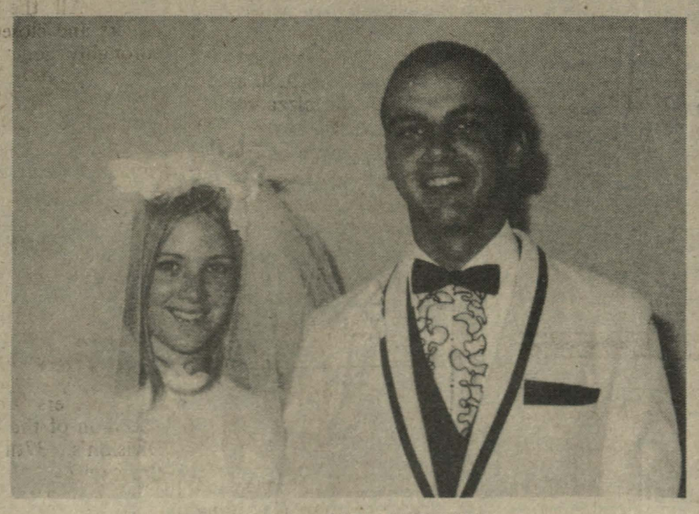
Double ring ceremony unites young couple



MR. AND MRS. JOEL SWEENEY

A double ring ceremony recently united Violet Jo Sutton and Joel David Sweeney, both of Campbell, at the First Christian Church of Campbell.

The Rev. E. W. Womack read the nuptials for the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Stephen Sutton and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Sweeney.

For her wedding the lovely blond bride selected a full length lace and sequin gown styled on an Empire line. It featured a fitted bodice with full skirt, long sleeves and a chapel train. Her ribboned bouquet was fashioned of white carnations interspersed with decorative orange pods.

The matron of honor carried a bouquet of yellow daisies, accenting the golden hue of her full length satin gown. The sun-gold motif was present, as well, in the gowns and bouquets of the attendant bridesmaids.

Mrs. Ronald Hiatt served as her sister's matron of honor, while bridesmaids included Miss Tina Easton of Campbell and Miss Denise Ray of Boulder Creek. The ring bearer was young Mark Armstrong of Los Gatos.

George Von Gunden fulfilled the duties of best man, and guests were shown to their places by Mike Chiaradonna and Tom Acuff. All three are residents of Campbell.

Before leaving on their wedding trip to Southern California, the newlyweds were greeted by their guests at the home of the bride's parents on Burrows Road.

Both Joel and Violet are graduates of Westmont High School. The bridegroom is in the armed services assigned to Ft. Benning, Georgia.

Box lunch, square dance social planned by San Tomas

An old fashioned square dance, complete with box social with the invitation being extended to all, is being planned by the San Tomas PTA for Friday night, Sept. 26 starting at 6:30 p.m. The foot-stamping calls will be in charge of Cliff Tranberg, well-known square dance caller.

Tranberg will teach the dancers during the evening with his "learn as you go process" so that those who have not experienced the fun of square dancing may join in the fun.

Women attending the evening of fun should bring a box lunch big enough for two people, and as in the past, they should be attractively "gift wrapped" and identities kept a secret. The boxes will be auctioned off to the highest bidder, with the bidding starting at five cents and a limit of $1.50.

Prizes will be awarded to the prettiest, most original and funniest boxes, so the women are urged to really put their improvements to work and decorate the boxes in good style.

Chairman for the affair will be Mrs. Jean Boyack and Mrs. Carolyn Barnes. The San Tomas School is located at 1510 Hacienda Ave. and the committee members stress that the social is not limited to San Tomas School people but is open to the public. Square dance dress is not necessary for participation in the dances, and a picnic atmosphere will be carried out with the box lunches being eaten on the school lawn.

FUN FOR ALL--Mrs. Jan Small, left, and Mrs. Carolyn Barnes confer with their partner for the evening while planning for the San Tomas box lunch social and square dance to be held Friday night Sept. 26.

The meeting is open to the public, and plans for the forthcoming season will be discussed, including a pre-Christmas show and sale.

Mrs. Hartshorn makes home in Campbell

Mrs. Ora Hartshorn, formerly of Bishop, Calif., is now making her home with her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Clark Fitch of 1173 Lovell Ave. Mrs. Hartshorn, a member of the Native Daughters of the Golden West, had resided in Bishop since 1903.

She was recently presented with a gold telephone by the Bishop Telephone Company for having been a continuous subscriber to the telephone service for 50 years.

Hartshorn, a former blacksmith, passed away in 1957. Mrs. Hartshorn brought with her his old-time blacksmith anvil and a pair of andirons fashioned with horseshoes as a sample of his work. Mrs. Fitch also brought home with her a pair of 1878 cowbells and a board on which her father had burned the symbol of each of the branding irons he had made.

Campbell becomes team-to-beat as 1969 football season opens

Campbell High Buccaneers, favored to capture a third consecutive West Valley Athletic League varsity football title, kick off the 1969 season this Friday at 3:30 p.m. in a non-league battle with Lincoln of San Jose.

Although there were a few grid clashes last Friday for league schools (Willow Glen vs. Saratoga; Los Gatos vs. Hawaii and Prospect vs. Soquel), the gridiron season really gets under way this Thursday when the Frosh-Soph teams of the league go into battle and on Friday when the varsities play.

Only non-league tilts are scheduled, however. On Thursday, the frosh-soph teams of Lincoln and Campbell get together and likewise Westmont-Leland; Overfelt - Camden; Leigh-Pioneer and Branham-Piedmont Hills.

The varsities of the same schools will tangle on Friday.

On Saturday, Sept. 27, Mitty and Blackford meet (Frosh-Soph at 11 a.m., while Del Mar takes on North Salinas at 11:30).

League play begins on Friday, Oct. 3 (the Frosh-Soph play the day before except in the Los Gatos-Saratoga case with the varsity under lights and the Frosh-Soph at 6 p.m.).

Campbell High varsity takes on Del Mar at the Del Mar oval in the first league game at 3:30 p.m. on Oct. 3.

Other league games scheduled that day, in addition to the Los Gatos-Saratoga fray, include Prospect at Westmont; Branham at Camden and Blackford at Leigh.

Although the Bucs have a new coach this year in Al Mathews, Campbell, which was ranked No. 2 in the Central Coast last year, is expected to repeat in 1969.

And the WVAL is rated this year stronger than it has ever been.

Prep gridiron experts predict that Los Gatos, Leigh and Saratoga will be the strongest challengers and some believe that the annual Thanksgiving Day battle between Los Gatos and Campbell could very well decide the league championship.

Some of the grid stalwarts of Campbell who are expected to do well this year include Ron Wood, a 6-2, 220-pound senior, who was a tackle last year but has been moved to center.

Two other Bucs, Steve Maas and Jerry Fournier, up from the frosh-soph team, should bolster the line.

In the backfield, Joe Alvarez, a junior, is expected to be in the QB post. He was an understudy last year. Slated for lots of action also are Dan Hayes and Bill McCall.

The Panthers of Prospect High, in operation for only the second year, are slated to give the other schools a good run this year. Coach Earl Adams is counting on the veteran Eric Test, at quarterback, to be a strong leader.

Westmont could be the surprise this year with Frank Grillo, fullback, and Terry Ward and Dan Guerrero, on the line, returning to do battle.

But Los Gatos, although unimpressive in its first game, is still expected to offer the Bucs their greatest challenge, as the Wildcats have 12 returning lettermen, headed by Ken Follmar, all-league tackle.

Camden Chatter

DEBBIE UNDERWOOD

I feel it a great privilege to write in The Campbell Press about Camden High School activities. In addition to the pleasure of reporting, it will be a great new experience for me.

Writing has always been one of my favorite hobbies. Besides that, sewing is another activity that takes up my spare time.

I have lived in Campbell for close to 14 years. Before that I made my residence in San Francisco; also my birthplace.

Before entering Camden, I attended Farnham Elementary School in kindergarten, then St. Lucy's for first through eighth grades. I am presently a senior at Camden.

I am looking forward to a great 1969-70 school year as your reporter from Camden.

Kicking off the new school year was an assembly held in the boys' gym Friday, Sept. 12. New student council members and faculty staff were introduced.

New members of the coaching department are Mr. Lonnie Beckenhauer, assistant varsity football and baseball, Mr. Ray Andree, frosh-soph football and wrestling, Mr. Guy Ward and Miss Diana House.

Two additions to the social science department are Mr. Nick Fuller, U.S. History, and Mr. Dick Stiles, World Civics/California Government and American/Comparitive Government.

Miss Arlene Taylor and Miss Donna Wallace will be specializing in English this year.

Teaching freshman science up to senior physics is Mr. David Mann, while Mr. Ray Strong is the new mathematics instructor. The new German teacher is Miss Engelcke.

Freshmen are presently involved with class officer elections. According to Mr. Wilson, freshman counselor, the Class of 1973 is going to prove to be a very spirited one. Keep up the good work, freshmen!

Friday, Sept. 19 was the Registration Dance. "Blackbird" was the featured band.

Camden varsity meets Overfelt High on the Cougar grill this Friday. Lots of luck Overfelt, because the Cougars are on the move!

Westmont Whirl

By Linda Hall

Blue Ash band played for our annual Kick-Off dance, sponsored by Student Council, Friday, Sept. 19. The decorations were right in line with our school spirit. The cafeteria walls are covered with campaign posters for the class officers election. Students will go to the polls Thursday, Sept. 25.

This year Westmont has added Ski Club to its long list of activities. At the first meeting about 100 students came to sign up. Howard Gibson is president; Nan Newbery, vice-president; Larry Noakex, secretary; Bill Krause, treasurer.

Also, on Friday the freshman class attended an assembly at which they were introduced to the numerous activities. Among these were the Ski club, the pep groups and the freshman students running for the class officers.

Prospect Pulse

by IVALEE INGRAHAM

Prospect lost its first football game of the season to Soquel. A large crowd saw the Knights beat the Panthers 14-6.

Making their debut at the game were two new spirit groups, the Letter Girls and the Lancers.

Letter Girls, headed by Cindy Duncan, are, Dee Dee Mosher, Cindy Berglund, Bitsie Courtney, Evelyn Smith, Lynne Brady, Cathy Evenson, Carol Ruano, Nancy Meitzel, and Devin Derham.

Lancers are part of the marching band, and carry ten foot poles with large flags on them. Led by Judie Sworde, they are: Phyllis Atkinson, Laurie Hunter, Jane Foley, Robin Noe and Nancy Cannady.

Friday each class held a meeting to discuss their plans for the year. Each class counselor spoke at the meeting.

Student Body Cards are on sale at the Student Store for $8. These entitle the student to free admission to all games, reduced rates for all dances, and a yearbook.

Seniors are reminded about the S.A.T. test deadline. If you wish to take the test Nov. 1, the deadline for registration is Sept. 25.

Campbell Corners

By Cindy Harris

The dance last Friday, Sept. 19, was a success with approximately 350 students and guests attending. FRITZ proved itself to be fantastic and most everyone enjoyed groving to its vibrations.

Last Friday was also the first rally for the class of '73. The spirit was certainly lacking. But once they get the hang of Campbell's spirit they should prove to be another good freshman class for Campbell.

Promoting our spirit this year are the varsity cheerleaders, Debbie Nelson, Nancy Labrador, Marlene Strange, Andrea Danielson and Dee Drummond. Handling the frosh-soph audience are cheerleaders Chris Young, Robin Peckham and Debbie McConnell.

Something new has also happened in spirit and that is the addition of male yell leaders. Howard Rogers, Hector Hernandez and Gary Fournier make up the varsity squad with Jim Coglianese and Ken Farmer leading frosh-soph.

Song girls for this year are Diane Fujishin, Rosanne Wood, Cathie Evola, Petra Baumgart, Darlene Lupien and Gay Queen.

"Campbell should have a fairly strong (football) team this year, but we can't compare to last year until we are tested on the field," explains head coach Al Matthews in an interview I held with him on Sept. 19.

During the interview I was told that the biggest threats to our title of being number one in the league come from Saratoga, Leigh, Prospect and Los Gatos high schools.

The big game against Lincoln High School this Friday ought to be an exciting one as Lincoln is also a defending champion, but of the Santa Teresa League.

The following are guys who other schools will have to watch out for.

Steve Stanford, a 6'4", 225 pounder, will be our starting tackle.

"Steve should be one of the outstanding linemen in northern California," states the coach.

Pete Dardanelli should prove to be one of the outstanding defensive ends in the Central Coast. Pete stands at 6'1", 200 pounds.

Ron Wood is the center and uses his 6', 220 pounds to his advantage.

"All three of these boys are very aggressive and like to hit", relates Coach Matthews.

Two other outstanding players are Joe Alvarez, a quarterback and Steve Maas, an offensive guard, and one of the best in the league.

Joe had experience under Gary Tomasso last year and also carries the qualities of a good leader.

This year's coaches are Mr. Al Matthews, head, Mr. Gordon Huntze and Mr. Mike DiGrazia, the assistant coaches.

Remember: This Thursday, Campbell's frosh-soph plays Lincoln on our field. The big varsity plays Lincoln on Friday, on Lincoln's field.

GRAND OPENING -- When the grand opening ceremonies took place for the United Rent-All outlet in Campbell (1565 Winchester), the United Fund drive was aided by a unique feature of the "ribbon cutting" ceremony arranged by Bob Telleson, local franchise owner for United Rent-All.

Miss Campbell (Karen Monahan), using a light chain length saw, (a rental item in the store) cut a "ribbon" composed of 25 one-dollar bills fastened together (Karen was careful to cut between the bills). The "ribbon" of bills was then presented to Jim Schafer, manager of the Campbell office for Colonial Savings now under construction across the street from United Rent-All. Schafer, who has operated Colonial Savings from a mobile home on Winchester since the first of the year, is local chairman for the United Fund Drive.

A "UNITED" FAMILY--- Operation of the newly-opened United Rent-All branch in Campbell to a great extent is a family affair. Franchise ownsen and their three youngsters all take an interest in the operation of the unique business which had its official grand opening last week. In the photo, left to right, Michael (12); Janet (14); Jim (13), Mrs. Tellesen (Jerry) and Tellesen. The family is posed by the huge cake that was on hand for the grand opening ceremony.

Above JayCette president, Gail Brundage, bare feet and all, hands Martinez his prize. Wonder if he made it to work that day?

Large family parents hold get-to-gether

Parents—do you have four or more children? Want to get out a little and converse with other parents of large families, compare problems, swap recipes, housing problems, shopping discounts available and other like situations? Then you should attend the meeting of the Large Families of America, Inc. scheduled for Friday, Sept. 26 at the Sveden House in San Jose.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Anderson, 611 Harrison Ave., the parents of six daughters and one foster daughter, are acting as coordinators of the dinner meeting, which is open to all denominations, races and creeds.

During the last four years approximately 50 families in the area have enjoyed the informal get-togethers which serve as a sounding board for mutual problems. A national organization, the unique group has just one common denominator, large families and the problems that go with them.

Anderson is an engineer at Lockheed, and in addition to seven lovely daughters, the Andersons have Mrs. Anderson's mother living with them in their five bedroom home. The girls are 16, 15, 14, 12, 8 and 6 with the foster daughter also being six. Can't you imagine three teen-agers in one house?

Call 378-4210 if you would be interested in joining the Large Family organization.

SEVEN DAUGHTERS -- Mr. and Mrs. Roy Anderson, 611 Harrison St. with their seven daughters, prepare for the first meeting of the Large Families of America, Inc. to be held Sept. 26. A pleasant association
The difference among S & L's is the service they offer. Everything else is much the same. Colonial has a heritage of service. Our name is a reminder of the days when there were town halls and villages... and you did business with people you knew and trusted. All Colonial offices are dedicated to their communities. Most have been a part of their towns and neighborhoods for many years so the people they serve are friends, not customers...and never numbers. Colonial, you see, believes that there is at least one thing more important than the fact it pays the highest interest on insured savings paid day-in to day-out. And that's upholding its reputation for being a pleasant association.

Dual driver-trainer cars donated to high school district

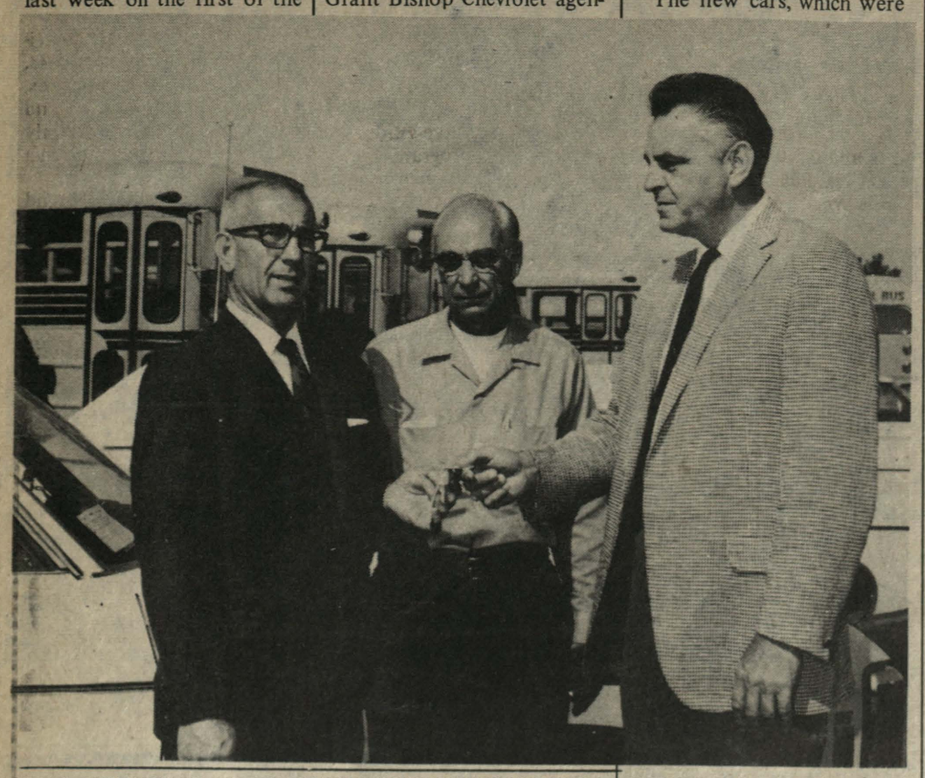
Campbell Union High School District took delivery last week on the first of the fleet of 16 new dual driver-trainer Chevrolets from the Grant Bishop Chevrolet agency, 16151 San Jose-Los Gatos Road.

The new cars, which were donated to the school district by the company for the school year, will be used in the sophomore science driver training program, a required subject in California high schools. According to Haskell Bowen, supervisor of driver education in the district, two of the new autos will be distributed to each of the eight high schools.

They are used continually throughout the school day by sophomore students who spend a total of three hours in actual behind-the-wheel-driving before they can pass the course. The students are taken on a rotating basis with the oldest in the class receiving the earliest instruction.

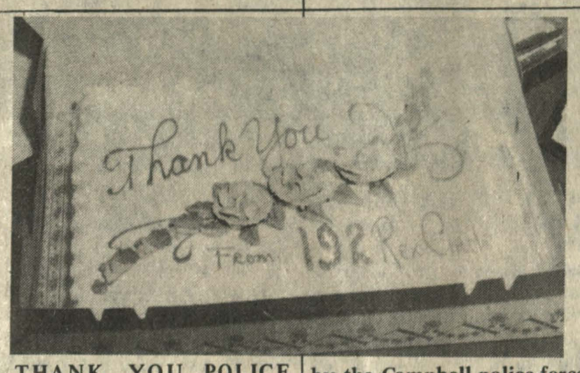
A certificate is issued to the student successfully passing the course, and in most cases insurance companies require proof that the course has been completed before they are eligible for insurance.

Two other companies, Courtesy Chevrolet and West Valley Dodge have also donated four cars each to the school district for use during the school year, making a total of three cars per school.



NEW CARS FOR STUDENT DRIVERS--Octavius Barberi, supervisor of maintenance and operations of the Campbell Union High School District accepts the keys of the first of 16 new dual control driver trainer cars for the sophomore science driver training education. Presenting the keys is Grant Bishop, owner of the Grant Bishop Chevrolet Co., 16151 San Jose-Los Gatos Rd. Observing the transaction is Mark Tusup, assistant supervisor of transportation.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY--When there was a graduation party for registered nurses who have completed the first series of formal classes for Good Samaritan Hospital "Code 99" (cardiac arrest) teams, Mrs. Margaret Feasby of 1936 White Oaks Rd. Hamilton, one of the teachers, and Hospital Administrator Robert K. Kirk. Other Campbell women who completed the course include Mrs. Helen G. Brown, 1326 Sharp Ave.; Miss Sue Baker, 1091 W. Latimer; and Miss Norine Bunn, 430 Dunster Dr.



THANK YOU POLICE FORCE -- The occupants of 192 Rex Circle, Mr. and Mrs. Claud Reid, enjoyed their vacation so much knowing that their house was being watched by the Campbell police force, that they brought a cake in for the officers of the force. The cake was greatly appreciated by all in the department.

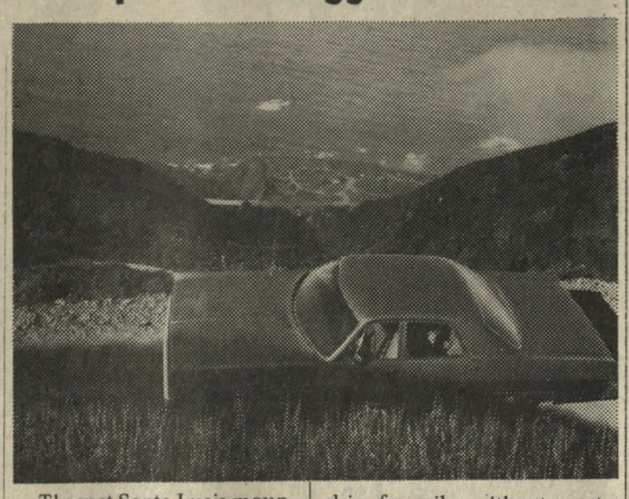
Nacimiento Road provides only "escape" from rugged coastline



The vast Santa Lucia mountain range looms over the Pacific Ocean for most of the way from Carmel as far south as Cambria below San Simeon.

For a distance of almost 100 miles along this rugged coastline, there is only one escape road that penetrates the mountain and leads east towards Highway 101 and the Salinas Valley.

It is called Nacimiento Road and it is a trail of adventure that affords spectacular vistas of the Monterey coastline, says the California State Automobile Association.

Nacimiento Road starts from the coast at the Kirk Creek bridge about four miles south of Lucia, where a U.S. Forest Service campground is located, should you arrive at night and want to camp before taking the hill.

Although the road twists and winds and is often narrow in places, it has recently been scraped and any driver can negotiate it with complete safety. Once you start up toward the 4,000 foot peak and stop to look back toward the Pacific, you'll be glad you started. You're often above the white mass of fog, making it appear as though you're on some Mt. Olympus and overlooking your domain.

Nacimiento Road travels through the vast Los Padres National Forest. This country is unspoiled and unpopulated and does not have the great press of tourists. You can drive for miles without meeting or passing another car. The road suits the country just the way it is.

Hikers and campers will love this oak and pine covered area with many trails and campsites available. Best bet for a good map of the area is to write to: Forest Service, King City, Calif., 93930. Fire permits are required.

Once on the summit, the road becomes paved and starts its wending way down toward the valley. If you're observant, you can often see big flocks of band-tailed pigeons, deer, mountain quail and grouse.

The Nacimiento River flows down through this canyon the road follows and then swings south to flow into the Nacimiento Reservoir.

At the east end of the Los Padres National Forest Slickrock Creek invites all travelers to stop for a rest and to wade in its clear and cold waters.

A few miles further along and you're in the Hunter Liggett Military Reservation and also a beautiful valley with high ridges and meadows crisscrossed by tank and jeep trails. During summertime, the reservation is a training ground for the Army. The land is all posted here because of the many unexploded shells, so remain in your car.

A weathered bridge crossing the San Antonio River heralds the end of the trail with Mission San Antonio visible off to the north.

GULF COAST DISASTER AREA—When vicious Hurricane Camille tore into the Mississippi and Louisiana Gulf Coast, thousands found shelter, food, and clothing in hundreds of Red Cross shelters such as this. Designated the official disaster agency for the nation, the American Red Cross will be providing emergency care and long-term assistance for all those who need it. Red Cross hopes to raise a minimum of $15,000,000 for Gulf hurricane relief. More fortunate Americans can aid Red Cross in this gigantic humanitarian task by sending their contributions, small or large, to the nearest Red Cross chapter.

'Y' Indian Guides week opens membership drive

Campbell homes, especially those with first, second or third grade boys, had better brace themselves for an onslaught of Indian raids.

Raiding parties will swoop down on at least five Campbell schools between Sept. 22 and Oct. 2 to sign up new braves for the "Y" Indian Guides program offered again this year by Southwest Branch of the Metropolitan YMCA of San Jose and the Santa Clara Valley.

The Campbell recruiting of boys and fathers will coincide with National "Y" Indian Guide Week.

Nearly 1,000 boys and their fathers were in the program last year, according to Coordinator Gary Wayman, and more than 400 of them in the Campbell, Los Gatos, Cambrian, Saratoga and West San Jose areas have graduated to the Gra-Y program. Other succeeding age group programs are the Jr. Hi-Y and Hi-Y clubs.

Designed to foster companionship between boys and their fathers, the "Y" Indian Guide program includes activities such as crafts, games, Indian lore, swim parties, camp-outs, pow-wows and meetings held twice monthly at the homes of parents, on a rotating basis.

Store window displays and school visits by costumed tribal members of the Four Nations during National "Y" Indian Guide Week will provide more details. Further information can be obtained on the organizational meetings by calling Southwest Branch at 356-7126.

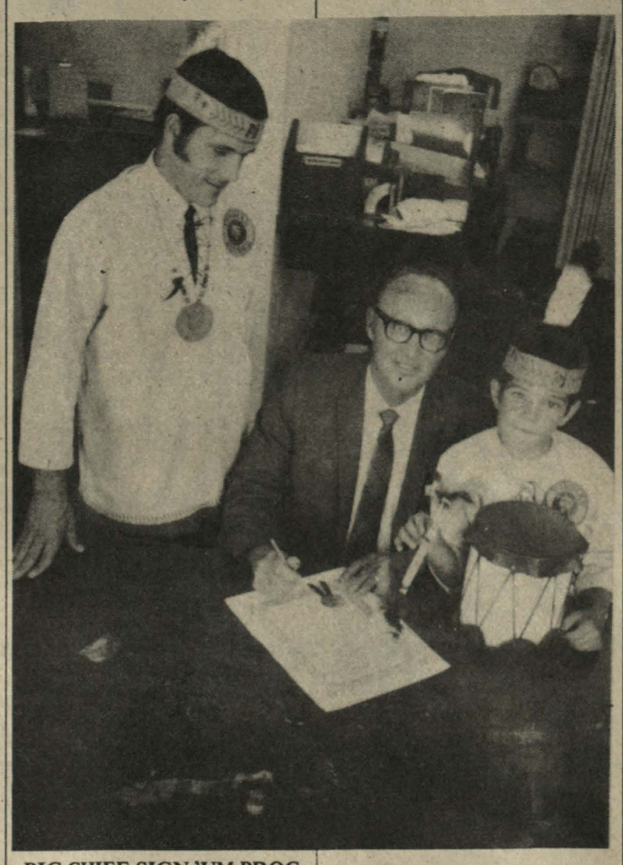
Lad keeps cool during fire

Scott Meyer, 14, 1094 Harriet Ave. was babysitting the other day at a home on London Dr. Scott was in charge of five children when a spontaneous combustion occurred in the next door neighbor's yard.

When the fire caught the fence and started to creep into the yard where Scott was baby-sitting, he first hustled all of the children outside to the front, called the fire department and was fighting the fire with a water hose when the fire department arrived.

One thing Scott did learn about the whole operation, besides how to keep a cool head. He found that the family he was baby-sitting for had not left the phone number of the fire department listed, and from here on resolves to always check for that information before the family leaves the house.

Scott, who is a freshman at Westmont High School this year, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Meyer.



BIG CHIEF SIGN 'UM PROCLAMATION --- Homer Hyde, Campbell mayor, seated, signs the official proclamation kicking off the YMCA Indian Guide week drive. Watching are Big Red Fox, better known as Dave Valkenaar and eight-year-old Doug Valkenaar, who goes by the name of Little Red Fox.

Frosh to help Viking runners

Good frosh prospects brighten the picture for the West Valley College cross-country team, according to coach Tom Smith.

Outstanding runners include Dan Cruz, Wilcox; Les Devoe, Buchser; Scott McVay, Westmont; Ray Hernandez, Camden; and Al Rios, Wilcox.

Top notch competitors from last year, include: Bill Jones, Branham; Dave Kopp, Branham; and Elmer Mattes, Wilcox. A trackman for the last two years, Kevin Wheeler is returning after a year's layoff from the cross-country team.

The Vikings, second last year in the Camino Norte Conference to DeAnza, will be one of the top teams in the league along with Santa Rosa and DeAnza.

Boys enjoy Giant, Dodger game trip

The Moreland Little League Senators, major league pennant winners were treated to a trip to San Francisco recently to see the San Francisco Giants and Los Angeles Dodgers game.

The team's sponsor, the Beverly-Burbank Lions Club, hosted the event for the pennant winners.

Enjoying the trip were Chris Sweeney, Doug Hebard, Mark Baughman, Steve Connors, Jerry Gutteriz, David Hare, Bryan Hare, Greg Riffe, Earl Self, Robert Dailey, Bert Wright, Kevin Kilduff and Glenn Clark. Manager for the team is Ted Baughman.

The boys each came home with a Giants cap.

John Hartford makes one-night stand in town

John Hartford, sidekick of Glen Campbell and composer of Campbell's hit recording "Gentle On My Mind", will appear in a one-night concert this Friday (Sept. 26) at Buchser High School. His appearance is being sponsored by the associated student body of West Valley College.

Comedian Fred Smoot, who appeared as "Trivers" in the television show "The Wackiest Ship in the Army" will round out the evening's entertainment.

Originally a writer on "The Summer Brothers Smothers Show", Hartford moved to Campbell's show this past year as a writer and performer. His composition, "Gentle On My Mind", won four of the recording industry's highest awards in 1968 and has been recorded by 183 artists to date.

The concert is scheduled for 8:30 p.m. Ticket information may be obtained by calling the student activities office at 379-1733, ext. 55.

Hawthorne could be Cougars QB

Chuck Hawthorne, who won all-league backfield honors while at Campbell High and who starred on the Washington State University frosh team last year, could become the sophomore sensation of the Pacific-8 this year, according to Coach Jim Sweeney of WSU.

Hawthorne, who is only 5-9 and 165 pounds, will have to prove his ability to a lot of doubters because of his size.

Hawthorne was a running back in high school where he made sensational runs in almost every game. But last year he proved that he could run the WSU frosh team as quarterback and that is where he is expected to play on the varsity this year.

Coach Sweeney says he is counting on Hawthorne, because of his ability as a broken-field runner, to be able to threaten the enemy corners sufficiently to set up the WSU inside running game.

Although passing was not Chuck's main forte in high school, as a WSU frosh he completed 28 of 65 passes for 415 yards and four touchdowns. He threw only two interceptions. In addition, Hawthorne as a Cougar frosh, ran 71 yards from scrimmage for a touchdown against the Oregon frosh and returned a kickoff 52 yards to score against Idaho.

On the Washington State roster this year is another Campbell youth, Dennis Mitchell, a graduate of Archbishop Mitty High School.

WATER POLO

The inexperienced West Valley College water-polo squad will get a stiff test Thursday when they entertain the University of California junior varsity at their Saratoga home at 3:30 p.m. The Vikes will go into the game with a 4-1 season marking and will come off a second place showing at the Cabrillo Invitational Tournament of last weekend.

SPORTS FANS!

I BET YOU DIDN'T KNOW

By Al Salciccia

Here's a Zany one from pro football . . . Did you know a team could win only ONE game all season and still finish in first place! . . . How is this possible? . . . A National or American Football League team with 1 win and 13 ties in a 14-game schedule, for example, would win the title over a team that won 13 games and lost 1 because the leagues go by percentage only - and the team with 1 win, 0 losses and 13 ties would have a percentage of 1.000 percentage (ties don't count) while the team with 13 wins and 1 loss would have a percentage of .929 and would finish second!

Can you imagine a football player scoring 100 points himself in one football game? . . . Did you know that such a feat was once accomplished? . . . Back in 1916, Leo Schlick of St. Viator College in Indiana scored 100 points against Lane College . . . Schlick had 12 touchdowns and kicked 28 extra points in that game, which his team won 205 - 0 . . . By the way, scores that high were not unheard of in 1916 . . . That same season, Georgia Tech, for example, beat Cumberland 222 - 0.

Head start school get "head start" from community citizens

BY HELEN PEARLMAN

"Campbell cares!" might be the slogan for the remarkable cooperative effort of local service clubs, merchants and individual volunteers which has provided Campbell's Head Start pre-school with a newly bright and clean facility. The pre-school, for children from low income families, is located in classrooms donated by St. Lawrence Episcopal Church in Campbell.

Members of West Valley Kiwanis, Campbell JayCees, Boy Scout Troop 330, St. Lawrence Church, and Campbell Jaycettes have taken the little school under their collective wings and helped refurbish the hard-worn classrooms for the new full-year program.

Members of these organizations and others, including the Campbell Police Auxiliary, American Association of University Women, San Jose Branch, First United Methodist Church, St. Lucy's Church, Congregational Church of Campbell and Red Cross Youth Services have committed themselves to future volunteer services in the Campbell Head Start program.

Underlying all this is the dedicated committment of a number of last year's Head Start parents of the school's interim Parent Policy Advisory Committee, (PAC) who have worked through the summer planning the refurbishing of the school, soliciting and selecting applications for this year, and assisting Jim Henman, Campbell's new teacher.

The Head Start PAC realized that the school rooms, meeting room, bathrooms, kitchen and play yard of their center, after two years of hard wear, were in need of painting cleaning, repairing, and remodelling. An appeal was issued to the community of Campbell.

Located in an aging building, the center had no funds or personnel with which to improve its facilities. The Federal Head Start budget provides for staff (when the semester begins), school supplies, and utilities; it does not pay for rent or repair of the center, and Campbell's is the only Head Start center in the county which is about to occupy its donated facilities for a third successive year.

When the appeal went out for help Campbell PAC was deluged by offers from an enthusiastic community. West Valley Kiwanis and Campbell JayCees agreed to work together with Head Start parents and volunteers to remodel and paint the classrooms, kitchen, hall, meeting room, and bathrooms.

Meanwhile, Boy Scouts from Troop 330 of San Tomas School spent the last Saturday of their vacation repairing, painting and cleaning in the Head Start play yard. The boys were directed by Eagle Scout candidates Mark Small and Greg Fisher, Mr. and Mrs. Trevor Rowland and their family and Augustus Stewart. of St. Lawrence assisted the Scouts.

A refrigerator donated by Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Lopez was moved in by the Rowlands. Participating Boy Scouts besides Mark and Greg were: Ed Connelly, Joe Santos, Tim Corcoran, Paul Torres, Willie Hovelkamp, Bob Adams, Mark Smith, Robert Chapell, and Greg Mortenson.

The following two weeks several work parties directed by James Lewis, a Head Start father, and led by Dr. Lew Sullivan, president of West Valley Kiwanis and Michael Kennedy, state director of Campbell JayCees, remodeled, cleaned and painted the interior of the school.

Among the volunteers were Kiwanians Sullivan, Jerry Svigals, J. C. Nason, Doug Wagner, Bob Abrams, Grant Emery, James Carney, Hank Stelling, and Carl Mattison; JayCees Kennedy and Rich Kaylor, PAC volunteer Mrs. Jules Pearlman, who coordinated the project, and Head Start parents Mr. and Mrs. Jim Lewis, Mrs. Jesse Lopez and Mrs. Cecelia Garcia.

Mrs. Nozer Haladwala, of the Campbell JayCettes, spent many hours soliciting commitments from members of Campbell area church women's groups to be volunteer drivers for the Head Start children this year.

Campbell Merchants who donated materials for the project included the Walker Paint Company, 1777 Winchester Blvd.; U-Save Rockery, 64 Harrison; Winchester Hardware, 2127 Winchester Blvd.; California Shingle and Shake Co., 25 Railway Ave.; Conmat Building Materials, 457 Queens Lane; Campbell Lumber Co., 743 Camden Ave.; and County Sheet Metal Inc., 150 Harrison. Additional materials were provided by West Valley Kiwanis, Michael Kennedy, Jerome Svigals, and Mr. and Mrs. Jim Limburg, and help was provided by Jerry Duncan, Campbell's senior building inspector.

Others who spent many volunteer hours on related matters for Head Start were Mrs. Ann Wood and Mrs. Sandra Lawson, PAC members and former Head Start mothers, and Mrs. Elizabeth Ross of St. Lawrence, and Ron Chellman, who repaired Head Start wheel toys.

ON CAPITOL HILL

with "Charlie" Gubser

My recent opportunity to represent the United States on the Biannual Military Tour of NATO countries sponsored by the North Atlantic Assembly was an interesting and educational experience.

The Assembly is a continuing organization through which legislators of every NATO country formulate the political policy which in turn regulates military policy.

This year's tour included two members of the West German Bundestag, two incumbents of the Belgian Chamber of Deputies and a Senator, a Canadian Senator and three members of the House of Commons, two representatives of the Danish Parliament, a French Senator, two Italian legislators, the President of Luxembourg's Chamber of Deputies, two members of the Norwegian Parliament - one of whom was the former Foreign Minister and Representative to the United Nations, two representatives of the "Chambers of the States" in the Netherlands, a British M.P., two Turkish Parliamentarians, and myself.

The military portion of the tour was unclassified and not nearly as sensitive as the information my top secret clearance entitles me to receive as a member of the House Armed Services Committee. But the real value of the trip came in learning to know parliamentarians of various political persuasians and exchanging ideas about our NATO defense with them. After all, even the most sensitive military matter is subject to the political decisions made by NATO parliamentarians.

As a result of my trip, I am less than optimistic about the future of the NATO Alliance. I found my associates from other countries anxious to preserve the Alliance and to maintain a high level of military readiness, but resigned to the fact that their countries cannot afford even their present commitment. Though it was not specifically stated, I seemed to get the feeling that everyone expects Uncle Sam to fill the breach.

In my personal opinion NATO represents an excellent framework of military organization which presides over inadequate and "paper thin" defenses. When French forces were committed to the Alliance, we had a force in depth. Today that depth no longer exists and we have been forced to replace the philosophy of "massive retaliation" with the myth of "flexible response".

In theory this means we will respond to aggression only in the degree necessary to successfully repel it. But, realistically speaking, this philosophy requires a dramatic increase in conventional forces. Otherwise NATO leadership must choose between the alternatives of quick defeat or the immediate use of tactical nuclear weapons and the risk of escalation to something worse.

A realist knows that the commitments necessary to increase NATO's conventional capability will not be forthcoming. So, under such circumstances I must reluctantly summarize that since our present commitment in Europe is inadequate to do the job, a substantial reduction in that commitment wouldn't make the situation any worse. Unless other countries are willing to do more, it makes no sense for American taxpayers to support a commitment in Europe which won't achieve its purpose.
